From The Overhead Series
TREES
By Lucy Hemphill
Illustrations by Michael Joyal

In this final installation of the Overhead Series, Lucy Haché once again transports the reader with intimate revelations on identity by exploring both her personal and ancestral relationship to the forest and the quiet sentinels that root together everything. Hache's prose is extraordinary in its combination of self awareness yet unselfconscious honesty and skillful restraint, creating a sense of connection under the tangle of foliage and limb that ever-reach skyward. Masterfully illustrated by artist Michael Joyal, his evocative arborist drawings contribute to the overall sensory and transcendent experience.

LUCY HEMPHILL, writer and adventurer of Kwakwaka'wakw/Métis and Scottish/Irish descent. She is a member of the Gwa'sala-Nakwaxda'xw Nations, a Kwakwaka'wakw Community on the northern tip of Vancouver Island, British Columbia. Much of her life has been spent in the forest or on the sea. When she's not surrounded by nature she writes about it. She also writes about contemporary and historical Indigenous issues.

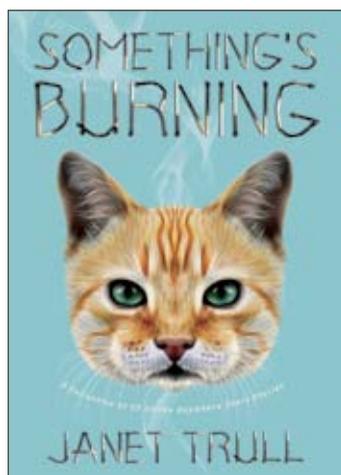

MICHAEL JOYAL, Canadian watercolour artist whose work focuses on reinterpreting characters from mythology and fairy tales through a modern lens. He has exhibited in Canada and the United States. His work is held in permanent collection at the International Cryptozoology Museum and the Legislative Library of Manitoba.

SOMETHING'S BURNING

By Janet Trull

Short Stories

$24.95 ~ 144 pp

5"x8"

Fiction - November 2022

ISBN: 978-1-988168-68-5

Following on the heels of her critically acclaimed first collection Hot Town and Other Stories, an examination of relationships within communities continues in this new collection of short fiction, Something's Burning. The twenty-first century speeds ahead with fast-changing ideas about culture and identity, and a new choir of voices are telling their long-suppressed stories. Outdated belief systems are challenged. Society norms and hierarchies crumble. But, fresh ideas cause tension between generations, sexes, races and neighbours. The population is at odds about the revised script. Is it the end of misogyny, or the end of men? Is it the end of social injustice or the end of loyalty? Is it the end of discrimination or the end of common sense? Some characters in these stories are oblivious to social change. Some are committed to stopping it. Some are invested in promoting their agendas at all cost. The bumper stickers on pick up trucks in the Foodland parking lot warn you that conflict awaits in the cereal aisle. The spacious landscapes where these stories take place are big enough for many opinions, but small enough to fall back on nostalgic principles. They represent the spectrum of joy and loss, and the author's enduring love for those who can find a balance between them.

JANET TRULL is a freelance writer with a regular column in the Haliburton County Echo. Her personal essays, professional writing in the education field, and short stories have appeared in The Globe and Mail, Canadian Living Magazine, Prairie Fire, The New Quarterly and subTerrain Magazine, among others. She won the CBC Canada Writes challenge, Close Encounters with Science, in 2013 and was nominated for a Western Magazine Award in the short fiction category in 2014. Her first collection of short fiction titled, Hot Town and Other Stories, was released (2016) by At Bay Press to unanimous critical acclaim.

LOVE HURRIES THIS

By Hamish Guthrie

In this accomplished first collection, Hamish Guthrie is inspired by past people, places and experiences. The poet recollects travelling to his wife's hometown of Montana and back to the streets of Toronto where he grew up, and his childhood summers spent on a farm just outside of Guelph, where the wildlife opened up like a unique world unto itself.

HAMISH GUTHRIE lives with his wife in Oakville, Ontario, where he taught English and drama at White Oaks Secondary School for many years and coached the debate team. He was born and raised in Toronto, and earned a B.A. in English and philosophy at Victoria College at the University of Toronto before training as a teacher. His poems have appeared in magazines and journals in Canada, the States and England. His forthcoming collection of poetry entitled, Love Hurries This will be released by At Bay Press. His wife was born in Montana, where the family has enjoyed many summers in the Rocky Mountains. Boyhood summers were often spent on a farm near Fergus and Elora, in Ontario.

THE LOYAL DAUGHTER

By Nancy Lam

Fiction

$24.95 ~ 144 pp

5"x8"

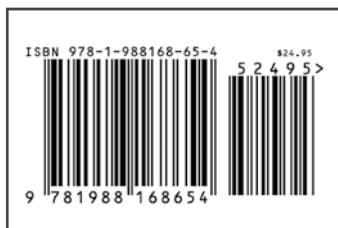

Fiction - September 2022

ISBN:978-1-988168-65-4

“Remarkably original, sensitive, and startlingly honest Lam’s debut novel is a universal story of an immigrant’s tale told through her daughter’s unique and touching perspective.” — Robert Rotenberg, bestselling author of Downfall

The Loyal Daughter is a novel in stories, told from the perspective of mother, daughter and granddaughter and spans the 1940s to modern day. The story begins with a young woman in a village in Communist China, scrapping her way to the crowded streets of Hong Kong, immigrating to an isolated Northern Ontario city and finally settling in Toronto. When she finds herself stuck in a small apartment above a clothing store, with four kids, her mother, two siblings, and a husband who is never home, the promise of a new beginning fades. Filled with heart-breaking sacrifices, struggles, and secrets that shape her identity, The Loyal Daughter stands testament to a woman’s true resilience.

NANCY LAM is a staunch Canadian. As a child and teenager, she lost herself in stories by Canadian writers, in university she majored in Canadian History to earn a Bachelor of Arts, and after acquiring her law degree she now helps prospective Canadians write and present their life stories to government officials. Her first novel is a fictionalized account of her mother’s immigration story to, none other than, Canada.

PISTACHIOS IN MY POCKET

By Sareh Farmand

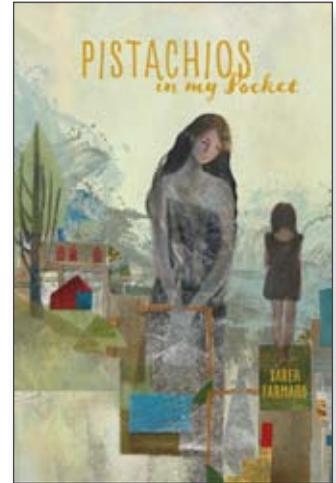

Poet Sareh Farmand was born in Tehran at the start of the Islamic Revolution. In this brave first collection of poems and prose a narrative arc details her family's escape from Iran, detailing their time as immigrants in limbo, and finally, as Landed Immigrants in Canada. Using family anecdotes, memory, public documents, and images to outline her family's story, Pistachios in my Pocket moves from the personal to the universal by exploring the influences of migration, political strife, and cultural identity on humanity. Here is a new voice to the conversation on global citizenship and multiculturalism, as themes of loss, home, and belonging are explored in a new way through a wide socio-political lens and personal accounts of a family's unique, yet universal experiences. Ultimately, bringing forward the many ways immigrants are haunted after fleeing for safety and what it means to be Canadian.

SAREH FARMAND was born in Tehran, Iran at the start of the Islamic Revolution, and grew up in Vancouver, BC. Her first book of poems, Flee - Pistachios in my Pocket, follows a narrative arch that tells the story of her family's escape from Iran and their experiences as first wave Iranians immigrants to Canada.

Sareh holds two bachelor's degrees, one in International Relations and one in Education from UBC and is a 2018 graduate of SFU's The Writing Studio.

Sareh's writing has been published in various publications, including Sky Island Journal, The Elephant Journal, and Pelak52.

When Sareh is not writing she can be found cultivating other creative pursuits and dragging her family and friends up mountains and down coastlines. Sareh lives in Vancouver, BC with her husband, two sons, and their cat Salem.

Like lyrics from a rock and roll album, this debut collection of poetry unfolds page-by-page to reveal a whole that is greater than the sum of its parts. Michelle Lietz grew up listening to the songs of Tom Petty. When the news of his passing was announced, the poet felt a piece of her past break away. Her beautiful poetry takes lyrics from Petty’s songs to launch her exploration on themes of nostalgia, adolescence, and the poet’s mixed Yaqui, European and Middle Eastern identity.

MICHELLE LIETZ is an American Indigenous writer of mixed Yaqui, European and Middle Eastern descent. She is currently pursuing a PhD in Indigenous Literature at the University of Manitoba in Winnipeg (Treaty 1 land) and lives in Ypsilanti, Michigan (occupied Anishinaabeg land). Her poems have previously been published in Prairie Fire’s NDNcity issue.

COPPERHEAD ROAD

By Brad Smith

“Brad Smith does it again with Copperhead Road. Writing that smacks of Larry McMurtry—great plot driven by fascinating characters and clever dialogue just speeds along. My only regret is that I finished it too quickly.”

— Ian Hamilton

Summer 1936, Wilkes County, North Carolina during the great depression. The Flagg family resides in the middle of the Appalachia, one of the hardest hit areas in the country. As the depression drags on the Flagg family watch their molasses business decimated. Jedediah, the family patriarch and his sons Morgan and Ezra struggle to produce a few meager gallons a week. That is until their sister Ava arrives home and takes control of the family business and starts running moonshine. Ava bails out ex-con Bobby Barlow and tells him he is working for the Flagg family now. With threats mounting from rival clans and the local cops breathing down Bobby’s neck, he and Ava devise a plan to play them all, one against the other. They don’t necessarily do it by legal means but that doesn’t bother them. To live outside the law, you must be honest.

BRAD SMITH is an internationally acclaimed novelist and screenwriter and is the author of twelve novels, including The Return Of Kid Cooper, winner of the 2019 Spur Award from the Western Writers of America; One-Eyed Jacks, shortlisted for the Dashiell Hammett Award, and All Hat, which has been adapted to a feature film. His latest novel, The Goliath Run, was published by At Bay Press. Smith’s writing draws on his wellspring of experiences working across Canada, the U.S.A., and Africa at a variety of jobs including railway signalman, carpenter, bartender, truck driver, ditch digger, school teacher, farmer, maintenance electrician and roofer. He now lives in a 90-year-old farmhouse in southern Ontario.

Just beneath the water's surface exists a fragile and delicate ecosystem, yet is a place often overlooked and taken for granted. The Pond and Beyond explores the tiny worlds right beneath our feet and the beautiful creatures that inhabit them. This sensitive and poignant book calls out our arrogance as the dominant species and the risks of continuing to ignore the complex environments and social systems thriving right alongside our own.

AUDREY J. LUTE was born in Southern Ontario, and now lives in Gilbert Plains, Manitoba where she works from her home studio as a visual artist. For a number of years Audrey volunteered in a variety of ways bringing the arts to her community. Audrey has received a number of Volunteer Awards, and in 2012 was presented the Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee Medal for her contribution to Arts and Culture in her community. Audrey's work takes you into her imaginary world with strange little creatures, sharing with you how they live, work, and their struggles.

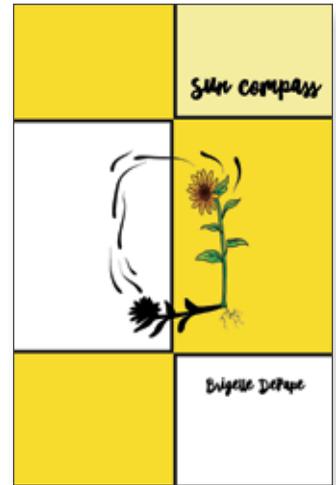

SUN COMPASS

By Brigette DePape

“A cup of tea, bicycle rides, super moons, prairie crocuses. Brigette’s open-hearted poetry sketches out a path home.”

— Kathryn Gwun-Yeen Lennon

In this debut collection of poetry, sparse text resonates and creates an impactful presence as the poet unpacks past trauma. Divided into four parts, this essential collection delves into the magic of resilience in finding one’s way through past pains. The poet’s words harness both shadow and light, the contrast creating new directions and perspectives.

BRIGETTE DEPAPE is a Winnipeg based writer. She studied Creative Writing at The University of Ottawa. She has written three plays for fringe festivals across Canada. Her work explores the themes of healing, sustainability, joy, and love.

“These poems, rich with compassion and open-hearted curiosity, are themselves perfect stones, marking place and time in evocative language.”

— Lorri Neilsen Glenn, former Poet Laureate, Halifax

The weight of history lies on the spine of memory. That heft and delicate balance are palpable in these rich poems that echo with grief, longing, and observed beauty. From the silence and complexity of the northern wilderness to the vast prairie landscapes stretching across the province, Through Disassembled Houses of Perfect Stones explores self, ancestry, and community through poems which dwell on the page with a satisfying density of imagery. Combining careful observation with sensitive reflection, this work examines the poet’s memory and experience as a father, son, husband, and descendent of European settlers married into an Indigenous family living in Northern Manitoba.

DAVID YEREX WILLIAMSON is an instructor and poet living in northern Manitoba on the banks of the Nelson River on Treaty 5 Territory of the Kinasao Sipi Cree Nation (Norway House). His recent works have appeared in The Dalhousie Review, Prairie Fire, The New Quarterly, Prairie Journal of Literature, Heartwood, a League of Canadian Poets anthology in honour of our relationship with trees, and Sweet Water, by Caitlyn Press, an anthology about watersheds. He is also the co-founder of the Language Arts Festival for University College of the North, an annual writing and performing arts festival that introduces high school students from across the north to professional story-makers. When not teaching, writing or drawing, David shovels snow, cuts wood and chases his dogs along the historic river.

GIBBOUS MOON

By Dennis Cooley & Michael Matthews

“Both Matthews and Cooley catch the electric blue visions and voices of the stars at night. What a gorgeous collection, a stunning collaboration!” — John Lent

A gibbous moon arrives in shadow and light. First at waxing then at waning, two moons in one cycle just shy of full. Poet Dennis Cooley’s eloquent words merge with photographer/composer Michael Matthews’ decadent abstract photographs. These two celebrated artists draw connections and parallels to each other’s masterful art forms, tying the two together seamlessly. The antecedent and subsequent illuminate the night sky with their dance; the shadows and the light taking turns at showing us the way through the darkness.

DENNIS COOLEY has lived most of his life on the Canadian prairies, where for over 40 years he has been active as teacher, editor, poet, critic, anthologist, publisher, mentor, and supporter of writing. His work has been immersed in family, the prairies, and a play with form. His most recent titles include three books of poetry—The Bestiary, cold press moon, and The Muse Sings.

MICHAEL MATTHEWS is active both as a composer and a photographer. He has recently completed a major song cycle, Bloody Jack. His abstract and night photographs have been exhibited in Germany and the United States.

Miraculous Sickness deals with society's views and treatment of schizophrenia from ancient times to modern day. From the cure for demon possession to the recovery model, Miraculous Sickness sheds light on subject matter still shrouded in misconceptions and myth. In this collection of poetry, we get a sense of how our approach to dealing with mental illness and those affected has evolved, yet how far we have yet to go. Skillfully wrought poems that detail her own lived experience, the poet expounds upon difficult terrain with careful footing so as to create a dialogue for all to consider.

ky perrau is an Edmonton poet and writing group facilitator, who was diagnosed with schizophrenia in 1997. Having had her first poetry publication in 1983, while in journalism school, she continued submitting to magazines and anthologies throughout the decades, despite her diagnosis. In the early 2000s she helped form Right Heart Press, a micropress collective, which published her chapbook, Paging Dr.G.. In 2017 she received a Canada Council Cultivate Grant to produce a manuscript detailing schizophrenic treatments throughout history, which became Miraculous Sickness.

GLASS BRICKS

By Louella Lester

“Funny, full of insightful detail and meditations on the value of hard work.”

— Ariel Gordon

What does it mean to work for a living?

Told in short prose, Lester shares her experience working both traditional and non-traditional jobs. Sometimes raw and often humorous, Glass Bricks explores the significance of our basic human right to work in an era where the struggle to find meaningful employment is all too real.

LOUELLA LESTER is a Winnipeg-based writer and amateur photographer. Her poetry, fiction, and non-fiction has appeared in journals such as, New Flash Fiction, Spelk, Reflex Fiction, Vallum, Prairie Fire, The Antigonish Review, Flash: The International Short-Short Story Magazine, at CBC News Manitoba Online, and in the anthologies, Gush: menstrual manifestos for our times, (Frontenac House, 2018), A Girl's Guide to Fly Fishing, (Reflex Press, 2020), and Wrong Way Go Back (Pure Slush, 2020).

“A tale as heartbreaking and hopeful as childhood itself.”

— Shirley Camia

With sensitivity and tenderness, Starkie Mak has captured a tale of the immigrant experience, from the eyes of a child. Masterfully rendered with careful homage paid to the children’s books that have touched the hearts of so many, Mak’s brush strokes and calligraphy evoke the turbulent emotions and difficulties a child must surely experience when having their little world upended, only to have a much larger and foreign world unfold before them.

In a heartbreaking parting, a child says goodbye to her family and is left with her imagination as guide. In search of a new life in a new land, a child retreats into the realm of fantasy. Through the devastating pain of childhood loss emerges the joy of a child’s triumph.

STARKIE MAK is an artist and writer deeply in love with expressive drawing and painting. Her paintings have been exhibited across Europe and Asia. She illustrated for children’s magazine Cotton Tree and is an art teacher educating children. The classic novel The Secret Garden sparked her interest in literature. Literature and illustration are indispensable parts of her life. She studied creative writing at the University of Oxford.

She moved to Toronto from Hong Kong in 2018.

SO MANY WINDINGS

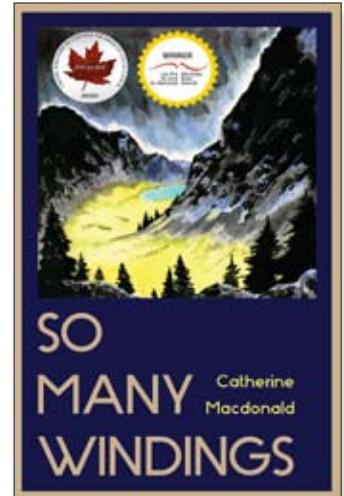

By Catherine Macdonald

“Macdonald delivers a crackling procedural. A great, engrossing read.”

— Brad Smith

Reluctant amateur detective, Reverend Charles Lauchlan, departs the prairie city of Winnipeg and travels abroad to Scotland with his fiancé Maggie on a bicycle tour of the Highlands. Two near fatal accidents put members of the tour on edge and, to make matters worse, a shadowy figure seems to be observing their every move. Stuck in the remote Highland countryside, the group is thrown back on their own resources. While Charles and Maggie are trying to decipher what these strange events mean, they make another grisly discovery. It's murder most foul and we're not just talking about Scottish weather. So Many Windings is the second in a three-book series that began with Put on an Armour of Light (winner of the Michael Van Rooy Award for Genre Fiction). Deftly wrought, meticulously researched, and scintillating with charm and period prose, Macdonald weaves a winding, cross-country tale that will require all of the detective's ingenuity and test the measure of his resolve.

CATHERINE MACDONALD enjoyed a varied career as an archivist and freelance historian before turning to crime. Her first mystery novel, Put on the Armour of Light, won the Michael Van Rooy Award for Genre Fiction at the 2016 Manitoba Book Awards. Catherine lives and writes in Winnipeg and blogs at Portage and Slain.

STATUS UPDATE

By George Toles & Cliff Eyland

"This magnificent collaboration offers us exactly what we need."

— Michael Silverblatt, KCRW Bookworm

Artist Cliff Eyland and author George Toles have been posting mini-narratives and illustrations in the form of status updates on social media each day since 2009. In a magnificent achievement by two artistic heavyweights, we are left to ponder whether the mundane social media posting might veer into the more abstract narrative of sequential art. Without a doubt, this is the most anticipated collaborative work to come out of Manitoba for some time.

CLIFF EYLAND was born in Halifax, Canada in 1954. He is an artist, writer, and curator. He has lived in Winnipeg since 1994. For more information please Google "Cliff Eyland."

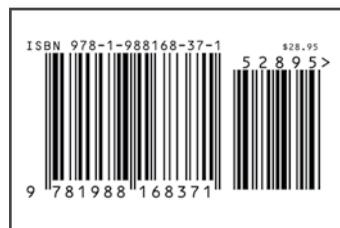

GEORGE TOLES is a Distinguished Professor of Film and Literature at the University of Manitoba. He is the author of A House Made of Light: Essays on the Art of Film, Paul Thomas Anderson, and the forthcoming Curtains of Light: Essays on the Metaphysics of Theatrical Space on Film. George has written or co-written the screenplays for numerous feature films made by Canadian director, Guy Maddin. These include Archangel, Careful, Twilight of the Ice Nymphs, The Saddest Music in the World, Brand Upon the Brain, My Winnipeg, and Keyhole. Tim has recently passed away and left Lori with piles of expensive recording equipment and mountains of debt. Tim’s family wants to move on from the loss but Lori can’t let go, not while she can still hear Tim’s laugh as though he’s still there beside her. That is, until she begins to hear his laugh in odd places, like old recordings Tim never worked on.

Can love transcend to keep us connected through death? Or do we just create our own reality when we’re not ready to let go?

ONCE A STORM
By Janet Trull

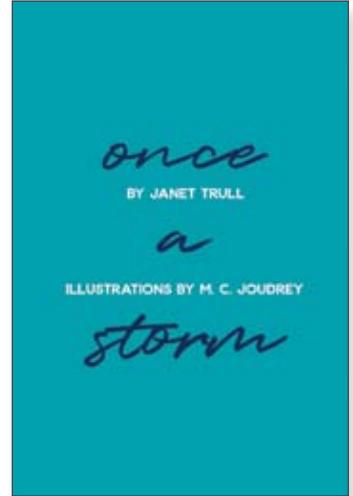

“Janet Trull knows her terrain - emotional, social, and physical - and holds the reader close for a wild ride”

— Terry Fallis

Losing a loved one to addiction and the unsurmountable grief that follows cannot be aptly defined by linear, literal description.

In Once A Storm, acclaimed short fiction writer Janet Trull nimbly and thoughtfully depicts the loss experienced by a parent who loses a child. When there are no words that can do the heart justice and the waves continue push and tug, the author offers up that which will not fade nor be washed away: the certainty of love.

“Sometimes touching, frequently amusing and consistently relevant adventure.”

— John Lawrence Reynolds

When a deranged loner kills twenty-six people in a Pennsylvania schoolyard, the country is stunned and devastated. Among those catatonic with grief is Jo Matheson, an organic farmer who has lost her goddaughter in the shooting.

Sam Jackson, an egotistical right-wing TV talking head, has sliding ratings and faces imminent cancellation. He arrives in Pennsylvania and during a rant, he blames the parents of the dead children. He intends the tirade to be his last salvo but, incredibly, his ratings climb, while Jo watches from her farmhouse in upstate New York, incensed.

Sam rides the wave, shouting that it's time to take the country back from the left-wing weaklings who don't have the courage to protect their children. When he is asked to run for Congress, he accepts and amplifies his message. Watching these developments in horror, Jo finally decides that there actually is something she can do.

She kidnaps Sam's ten-year-old daughter.

THE MIRROR'S EDGE

By Alex Passey

Alex Passey's got a gift for fun, bombastic descriptions and a great sense of comic timing. There's some truly gripping action in this sci-fi satire. The man in this mirror is all of us."

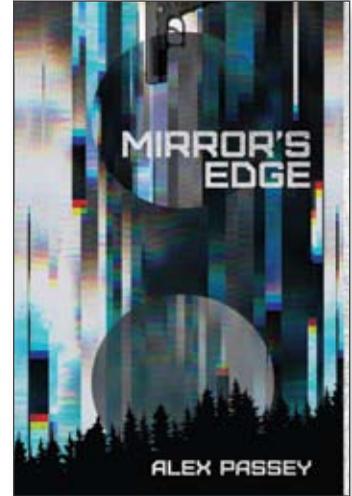

— Jonathan Ball, author of Ex Machina and Clockfire

Rath has been on a downward spiral. And it's not just him—the world is a polluted mess, corporate influence has replaced independent thought, and his fiancée has decided that Rath is no longer worth her time.

While Rath embraces his multiple vices, he never expected his next bender to land him in another world entirely. He finds himself in Sarah's world—an untainted parallel universe to his own: a pristine woodland where every person is the absolute master of their domain, and where Rath's AI chip isn't dictating his every move.

The opportunity to change his life presents itself in permutations of reality, but Sarah wants nothing more than to follow Rath back to his world. As their mirror worlds collide, Rath teeters on the edge of oblivion.

ALEX PASSEY, Novelist and poet, living in Winnipeg. In addition to his forthcoming novel Trigger Warning through At Bay Press, he is also the author of the high fantasy series Omnijin, along with a companion short story that will be featured in an upcoming issue of Strange Sorcery.

WHAT FOX KNEW

By Mary Barnes

“Barnes’ poems are, to quote her, “thick as resin” and also gorgeously clear as amber in the light.”

— Juliane Okot Bitek

“His voice was as thick as pine resin when he began to read and as the words travelled down my spine.” Mary Barnes has identified beauty in subtlety. What Fox Knew captures our gentle world in rich poems that calm and awaken. Amid landscape and truth, the quiet world we take for granted is revealed anew with tempered grace. Bringing her Ojibwe roots to the fore, the poet has constructed a first collection that settles on masterful.

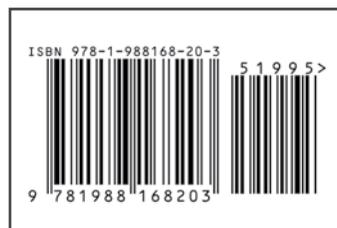

MARY BARNES is of Ojibwe descent. She is a graduate of the University of Waterloo and a winner of the Tom York Award for short fiction. She has written book reviews for The Antigonish Review and currently writes for Prairiefire. Her poetry has appeared in literary journals such as the Prairie Journal, Tower Poetry Society, and Voicings. Inspirations for her writing come from the landscape of her youth and everyday encounters. Born in Parry Sound, she now lives in Wasaga Beach with her husband Bob and writes, gardens, and talks to the birds

“McPherson is a poet I can count on like few others. He’s a disciplined romantic, if that’s even possible. Candy is exactly that. Sweet and tasty.”

—Michael Dennis, Today’s Book of Poetry

Over the course of a lifetime, we all experience catch-of-breath moments that stir exquisite awareness of life’s transience. Such fleeting moments we share with poet Christian McPherson and his space-suited avatar negotiating bumpy terrain. In this collection the meandering, often self-deprecating poet considers and records moments of truth and insight common to us all as he registers his joys and regrets, and raises rants in postured outrage. A refreshing and often humorous honesty prevails. As the dedication promises, these poems are for those who go to a job every day but dream of something more. McPherson delivers.

CHRISTIAN MCPHERSON, poet and novelist. He lives in Ottawa with his wife and their two kids. He has written a bunch of books including, The Cube People, Saving Her, and My Life in Pictures. If he isn’t out walking his dogs, driving his son to hockey practice or his daughter to cheerleading, he is usually sneaking off to the movies.

TREE TALK

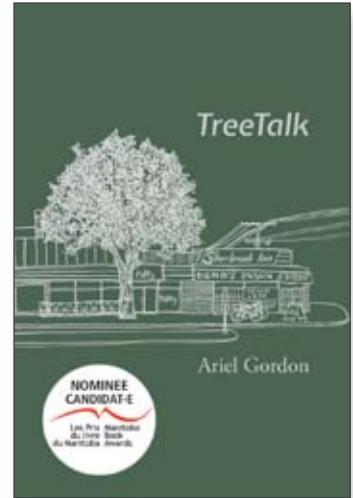

By Ariel Gordon

“In Tree Talk Ariel Gordon not only re-foliates a tree with poems, she adds a startling and crucial layer of leaves to how we might (re) imagine ourselves coexisting with nature.”

— Sylvia Legris

During the heatwave of July 2017, Ariel Gordon spent two days sitting on the patio of downtown Winnipeg’s Tallest Poppy, writing snippets of poems which she hung from the boulevard tree using paper and string. Passersby were invited to TreeTalk too — their secrets / one-liners / meditations / haiku were also hung from the tree. By the end of the weekend, the elm had a second temporary canopy of leaves: 234 poems. Gordon has assembled all these voices into a long/found poem that asks: what does it mean to live in the urban forest?

ARIEL GORDON, Winnipeg-based author of two collections of urban-nature poetry, both of which won the Lansdowne Prize for Poetry. Recent projects include the anthology GUSH: menstrual manifestos for our times (Frontenac House, 2018), co-edited with Tanis MacDonald and Rosanna Deerchild and the third installment of the National Poetry Month in the Winnipeg Free Press project.

The Muse Sings and the poet sings songs of love and longing from states of joy, self-doubt, vexation, curiosity, affection, observation, mock-indignation...

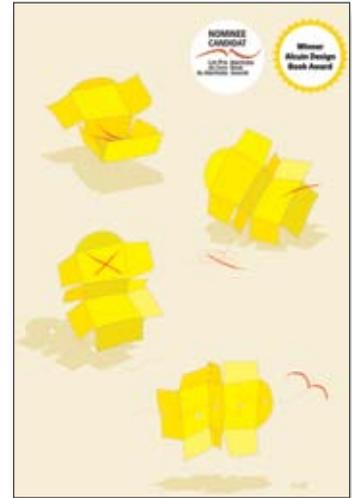

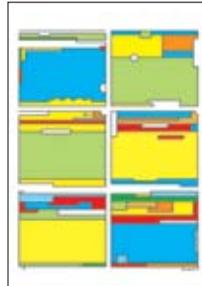

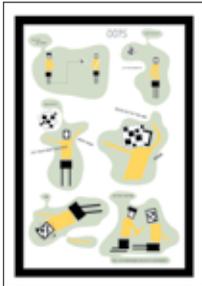

The poems speak for themselves and sometimes “they talk all at once.” In seductive acts of language itself, they invoke and embrace the Muses as much as they do the writers who would become muses, from ancient Homer and Shakespeare to poets of contemporary time. These poems are the seasoned work of a trickster poet in his prime with a crow’s eye trained on the world. The poems all but produce decibels despite the inked imprint on the page that would fix them silent in place, until a living voice sets them free.

DENNIS COOLEY has lived most of his life on the Canadian prairies, where for over 40 years he has been active as teacher, editor, poet, critic, anthologist, publisher, mentor, and supporter of writing. His work has been immersed in family, the prairies, and a play with form. His most recent titles include The Home Place (essays on Robert Kroetsch’s poetry), and two books of poetry—Abecedarium and Departures. His forthcoming poetry collection will be released by At Bay Press in 2019.

PLACE INTO BEING

By Robert Pasternak

*“Fabulous images from a fabulous artist.
Mind? Blown!”*

— Robert J. Sawyer

Robert Pasternak (NAK) is without a doubt, an undisputed master of sequential art. A virtuoso craftsman, known regionally by only an exclusive few, all attentive and aware followers. This forms part of the NAK mystery and lore.

This collection is a Faberge Egg of abstract comics; a meticulous creation that to categorize or define would be a disservice to the ocular candy that is Nak’s work. A spectacular trove of singular works of art that compositionally and cerebrally bend the mind, pushing the realm of comics to the edge and balancing perfectly thereupon.

Share in the Nak experience with this first published volume of work.

ROBERT PASTERNAK, (NAK) artist, father, illustrator, graphic designer, novelty product inventor/manufacturer and filmmaker, spanning the themes of the cosmic, surreal, technological, metaphysical, and what it means to be human. He has been creating and exhibiting his art for almost 40 years. His science fiction illustrations have appeared on Amazing Stories and On Spec magazine and on book covers for Guy Vanderhague and Timothy Findley. In 1994 he won the Aurora award in Canadian Sci-Fi art. His short films have played all over the world, with his first experimental short The Affirmation of Jimmy Brown selected for the Venice Film Festival in 2004.

In the post-punk, global economy of the 1980's, four young women from very different backgrounds are united by a common goal: justice. Curb Angels features fearless female characters on a mission that crosses borders and challenges the status quo. In the face of exploitation and violence against women, they carve their own path and leave a touch of well-deserved wreckage along the way. Powerhouse team Lisa Mendis and Christopher Ducharme join forces in this tour-de-force graphic novel debut to push boundaries and buttons as they explore culturally taboo subjects through sequential art.

CHRISTOPHER DUCHARME, Winnipeg-based artist and writer. He has published several web-comics. His art style is a minimalistic black and white line art and his writing style dabbles in the darkness of the human heart.

LISA MENDIS, Winnipeg based illustrator, print maker and graphic designer. She received BFA (Honours) from the University of Manitoba. Lisa works in digital, traditional pen and ink and silk screen. A comic enthusiast she values the art of storytelling through the medium. She teaches adult and youth classes at Martha Street Studio, and is involved with studio and school programs at the Winnipeg Art Gallery.

— Eric Von Haessler

There are thousands upon thousands of love songs. There's probably one for every happy and hurting heart, from Springsteen's 'If I should Fall Behind' to Prince's 'Nothing Compares 2 U'.

On their first album, acclaimed Atlanta band, Drivin' N Cryin' wrote a song about love. It wasn't perfect. It didn't want to be. Love isn't perfect.

Now, thirty years later, 'You Mean Everything' is as relevant and tender as when the needle first touched wax.

Never published in print, this little book offers poetic lyrics for all to hold and share.

DRIVIN' N CRYIN', rock band from Atlanta, Georgia formed in 1985. Their first album Scarred But Smarter featured the song, 'You Mean Everything' and the album was an instant hit. It garnered the attention of Island Records, who would go on to sign the band. A number of critically acclaimed albums followed. While the band is well known for the richness of their songwriting, they are also revered for their dedicated touring and engaging live performances. Visit the band at drivinncryin.com

The Mother Goose Letters comprises the annotated correspondence between Mother Goose and her cohorts in Britain concerning migration to the Canadian Prairies. The letters reveal both her attempts to wheedle her fellow nursery rhyme characters to settle in the Prairies with her and their mixed responses to her plans. Responding to a cease and desist command from No. 10 Downing St., M. Goose categorically makes her case for the out-migration and re-migration of her stories. She supposes they will continue to live if she gives them leave to change as time, place, and experience dictate. She is, after all, a runaway Mother Goose. In print for the first time, The Mother Goose Letters presents scrupulously collated research in the form of hitherto unseen letters and previously unknown revisions of the best-known Mother Goose nursery rhymes and fairy tales. These collected works are used as the framework whereby a story of modern day immigration can be told.

CHILDREN SHOULDN'T USE KNIVES

AND OTHER TALES

by Shirley Camia

Illustrations by Cindy Mochizuki

"If childhood were a room, Shirley Camia's Children Shouldn't Use Knives and Other Tales paces off the corners, fiddles with the light switch and breaks the blinds."

— Ariel Gordon, author of Stowaways, winner 2015 Lansdowne Prize for Poetry

The blue skies of childhood exist in the warmest of our memories, but what chases us all through the rest of our lives are the storm clouds. This is the premise of Children Shouldn't Use Knives and other tales, a harrowing but exhilarating examination of life before adolescence by Canadian poet Shirley Camia. In a series of razor-sharp sketches, Camia's piercing observations are offered as a perfectly balanced counter-weight to the sing-song melody of innocence. Camia and Vancouver illustrator Cindy Mochizuki offer an individual reckoning that unpacks the universal truth that fear and danger respect no age and ignore all boundaries.

Shirley Camia has produced a gorgeously sculptured work of poetry that is as beautiful as it is devastating.

Earth and sky are devoid of colour. There are no beginnings or endings.

Then the snow melts.

Maybe it’s the dead cars. It could be the escaped bison roaming the downtown core. Mosquitoes? Sure. Dragonflies? Absolutely. And it’s also entirely possible it’s the pomegranate tree at the corner of Portage and Main. Or maybe, just maybe, it’s the people, like Dickie Reimer. Any way you slice it, something’s going on in Winnipeg. That’s really true.

At some point, every Peg will ask so why’d you move here? Jack hopes the city will bethe one place no one will look for him. An infamous guerilla street artist, Jack is on the run. Again. Under scrutiny from international authorities, anonymity is his only protection. He promises himself he’ll quit, but blackmail is powerful persuasion.

Tracked by a relentless special agent, Jack navigates the absurdity of the city while befriending (and avoiding) the eccentric characters that proudly claim it as their home.

HOT TOWN AND OTHER STORIES

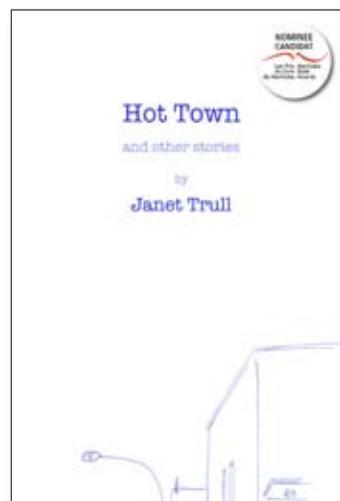

By Janet Trull

“Janet Trull is a smart, perceptive new storytelling voice... [with] a keen eye for human nature and a soft spot for human weakness.”

— Toronto Star

Multi-award winning author Janet Trull has composed an adept literary collection of short stories in her astounding first book. With skillful, precise writing, the author marries insights into the mundane, provincial attitudes of small town life with subtext and subversion. With these stories, we are transported to places that immediately seem so familiar on the surface yet are refreshingly original. This collection showcases the author’s writing prowess in uncovering what lies beneath the surface as she unpacks the seemingly simple lives of those who reside just outside the urban mainstream. The reader will recognize a new powerful voice in short fiction with Janet Trull.

AT BAY PRESS FICTION ANNUAL: DREAMS & NIGHTMARES

Edited by Alana Brooker

Illusory, fleeting and spectral. The short stories, artwork and photography included in this collection illuminate the vastness of the human mind while leaving other corners of its expanse untouched, as so they should remain...

Rich in archetypal themes yet modern in approach, this Fiction Annual is comprised of writing that explores the need to discern reality from delusion.

Proudly printed in Canada, this collection features stories in both literary and graphic novel format. These are tales that lure and unravel as only dreams and nightmares can.

“Self-doubt, pain, and loneliness are a recipe for secrets and lies, and the focus of the latest anthology from At Bay Press; but through brave work and acceptance, pride and strength can be found.”

— Prairie Books Now

The short stories and artwork included in At Bay Press's latest anthology focus on the distorted and rearranged truths that we tell ourselves and others. What emerges from these pages is that loneliness is often the catalyst for rejecting or constructing a reality that suits our needs. Through these stories, different considerations of loneliness are explored and we get a sense of the solitude each one of us knows.

Compelling and evocative, the insightful writing that comprises this Fiction Annual captures the power that secrets and lies have in both the creation and destruction of the realities we build around us. By virtue of the mechanisms we rely on to elude, deflect and deny, we may find ourselves very alone in a world of our own design.

OF VIOLENCE AND CLICHÉ

by M. C. Joudrey

After the accident, William begins to see things differently. In fact, he begins to see things no person expects to see, including an orange tabby cat that speaks but won't answer questions and a half naked, otherworldly woman who isn't a woman at all. They offer him aid wrapped in riddles, as William learns to coexist with the creatures that seem to either goad him or fill him with trepidation.

While trying to understand this new paradoxical world that has revealed itself to him, William works his way up the petty criminal ranks, making money by fighting in unsanctioned boxing matches. A seasoned fighter, he is both exalted and manipulated by Arnie, a man who deals in sex slavery. William becomes a not-so-unwilling pawn in an international human trafficking syndicate and all too clearly sees the value of a dollar measured against human life. He navigates society's underbelly while keeping his offensive game in check, not knowing if his next move will be his last.

“It has the rare status of seeming comfortable with itself without complacency or arrogance, a pleasant literary equilibrium ideal to awaken the world when you need a subtle escape.”

— Jury, Manitoba Book Awards

The fiction and prose selections included in Charleswood Road contrast stark reality with fantasy, mortality with transcendence and explore both the mundane and pivotal choices people make in shaping their world.

Each selection, neither predictable nor conventional, challenges one’s assumptions of what is real and what is possible and inspires challenging the role of fate and fortune in one’s own life.

From first kisses to last breaths and everything in between, sentiment is stripped away to reveal both the allure and acrimony of humanity. Rich and varied, bleak and hopeful, this remarkable collection of short stories and poetry pulls focus on our limitations and in spite of these limitations, our willingness to see each day to the end. The title offering is a wholly original and candid coming of age piece loosely based around real events in the city of Winnipeg.

M. C. JOUDREY, Canadian writer, artist, and designer. His collection of short stories, Charleswood Road: Stories, received a Manitoba Book Awards nomination for Most Promising Writer. He has been a member of the selection committee for the CBC Short Fiction Prize and a jury member for the Manitoba Book Awards. He is also a bookbinder with works held in various galleries internationally.

WOMAN: AN ANTHOLOGY

Various Contributors

“A diverse collection of authors, celebrating the glory of women in literature.”

— Independent Publisher Awards

The collection Woman - An Anthology features selections on the theme of women in literature and includes writing from incredibly diverse and acclaimed authors.

Rather than focusing specifically on female protagonists, this anthology considers the range of the female voice as part of an introspective and nuanced compilation. These collected works explore how women are written and the perspectives from which they are written.

A cross-section from multiple genres and styles, the stories herein are weaved together to form a varied literary tapestry.

AT BAY PRESS FICTION ANNUAL: JILTED LOVE

Edited By Alana Brooker

Fiction

$14.95 - 78 pp

Sewn paperback

5.5" x 8.5"

Anthology - November 2013

ISBN: 978-0-9917610-0-5

Poignant, bleak, funny and fervent, the short stories, artwork and photography included in At Bay Press's latest anthology illustrate the various implications of love gone awry.

The 2013 Fiction Annual is comprised of thoughtful writing about contempt, regret and emancipation that touches the hearts of all readers who have loved and lost. The art and photography are included to support the storytelling but nonetheless stand on their own as fine examples of the theme 'Jilted Love'.

Proudly printed in Canada, this collection features the work of new writers and artists as well as masters from the past century, arranged based on a timeless theme.
